

A photograph of a staircase with small white flowers placed on the steps, set against a textured wall. The lighting is warm and golden, creating a sense of depth and texture. The flowers are small and delicate, contrasting with the solid, industrial-looking structure of the stairs and wall.

phenomenological
search for the [archi]tectonic

Onground Gallery, Seoul
Wednesday, 29.5.2013
7:30pm

nicholas baker III,
architect ma bfh